Plus-Minus Ensemble is committed to commissioning new work and placing it alongside recent and landmark modern repertoire. Formed in 2003 by Joanna Bailie and Matthew Shlomowitz, +- is distinguished by its interest in performative, electroacoustic and conceptual pieces, and experimental open works such as Stockhausen's 1963 classic, from which the group takes its name.

More information is available here: <http://www.plusminusensemble.com>

Plus-Minus will host an open workshop with postgraduate composers on the 27 November. The West Court will be open from 10am-1pm and 2-5pm that day.

Keep Tuesday 25 February 2020 free for the first concert in our Dialogues Festival which will feature Plus-Minus and a programme featuring instruments and live electronic processing.

MUSICAL INSTRUMENT MUSEUM AND RELATED EVENTSST CECILIA'S HALL : CONCERT ROOM AND MUSIC MUSEUM*50 Niddry Street, Edinburgh EH1 1LG

Originally opened in 1763, St Cecilia's Hall is the oldest purpose-built concert hall in Scotland. Including a Concert Room and a Music Museum, in 2017 the building re-opened following an extensive refurbishment. The elegant oval concert room on the first floor remains at the heart of the Georgian building, and there are four galleries situated on the ground and first floors, containing one of the world's most important collections of musical instruments.
